Our manufacturing company, Harvard Medical Devices Ltd, has many years experience in supplying private label electrical health products to leading pharmacy chains around the world – from the UK to Hong Kong, Malaysia and Singapore – with more than 2 million units supplied since 2004.

At Kinetik we can provide a full packaging and graphics design service and can manufacture products in any colour. We can also help with all aspects of communications from staff training to point of sale materials using our vast experience of engaging with 'well consumers' to encourage people to keep a check on their vital signs. Our products are manufactured to the highest standards in approved and regulated factories. We also seek to supply medium and large corporations with Home Health Monitors to support employee welfare programmes. Products can be supplied as Kinetik Brand or in corporate branding.
